Initial meeting that formed the Cactus and Succulent Society of America in January 1929 with the following present (left to right): G.A. Frick, Mary Lawrence, Col. Kewen, R.E. Willis, Lee Chambers, John Vosburg, Scott Haselton, Dr. A.D. Houghton.

Scott Haselton at his book printing shop in Los Angeles, California working on the White & Sloane books about 1937.

Scott Haselton employees working at his print shop in Los Angeles, California in about 1937.

Gil Tegelberg, Sr, Taylor Marshall & Scott Haselton with the first Yucca whipplei they came across - above the Salton Sea in background in southeastern California in 1946.

Scott Haselton with a stack of CSSA Journals ready to be mailed from his book printing shop in Los Angeles, California about 1937.

Scott Haselton w Pachycereus pringlei in Baja California in 1935.

Scott Haselton in front of a Lemaireocereus in Honolulu, Hawaii in 1939.

Camp life at Cottonwood Springs in Joshua Tree National Park, California 1948.

Scott Haselton and Reid Moran

Scott Haselton inspecting the half-mile rows of seedlings of Stapelia hirsuta in California.

Scott Haselton holding the rib skeleton of a dead Saguaro next to a live Saguaro c1948.
Attendees at a banquet for Helioa Bravo-Hollis at Pomona College about 1956. 1 Robert T Craig, 2 Scott Haselton, 3 Slim Moorten, 4 Reid Moran, 5 ?, 6 ?, 7 Clark Moorten (son), 8 Ethel Rush, 9 Homer Rush, 10 Lyman Benson, 11 Mrs. Benson, 12 Ina Craig, 13 Howard Gates, 14 Helia Bravo-Hollis, 15 Pat Moorten. Photo by George Lindsay.
Scott and Dorothy Haselton

Scott Haselton on his 95th birthday in November 1990 in Vermont.

Copyrighted material on this site is used in accordance with ‘Fair Use’, for the purpose of providing dedicated succulent personalities, and will be removed at the request of copyright owner(s).